COUNCIL TAX CLAIM FOR JOB RELATED DISCOUNT ON A SECOND HOME

At its meeting on 23 February 2006, in accordance with regulation 75 of the Local Government Act 2003, the Council resolved to reduce the council tax discount for second homes and empty but furnished properties to 10%. This change takes effect from 1 April 2006.

However a 50% discount may be claimed where the liable person occupies a furnished property as a SECOND HOME, it is not the sole or main residence of any person, and it falls into one of the following classes:

- A. The property is provided to him or his spouse/ civil partner by reason of their employment, i.e. tied accommodation, or
- B. If a person, his spouse or Civil partner is a Minister of any religious denomination and the dwelling is inhabited as a residence from which he performs the duties of his office, or
- C. Service personnel who have their main residence in the UK in accommodation for which the Secretary of State for Defence is the Owner, and which an exemption under class O is being claimed.
