

NO. 3 GLEBE ROAD

Buildings current use – residential
Architects – G. Lawton-Brown and Percy C. Jones
Built circa 1917

The property is of red brick with stone dressings over two and a half storeys in an Elizabethan revival style, under a slate tile roof. The eastern façade consists of a parapeted gabled wing with an eight light mullioned stone window covering two storeys with projecting porch, adjoining a 2 storey bay with dormer. The front door is double having splayed stone jambs with Tudor arch, the lintel having a label mould with dropped an returned ends and a small window above. All other windows have similar stone jams and leaded glass. The twin stack projecting from the front gable features two splayed chimneys with decorative oversailing brickwork.

Age	Yes. The property is believed to have been built circa 1917.
Architectural	Yes. The property was designed by architects G. Lawton-Brown and Percy C. Jones. The property has a number of significant design features, such as stone window surrounds and jambs, large stone mullion two storey windows and large decorative chimney stacks with over sailing brick detailing.
Group Value	No.
Historic	Unknown.
Rarity	Yes. Like most properties around this area this property is of detailed and individual design.
Social/Communal	No.

NO. 11 GLEBE ROAD

Buildings current use – Residential
Architects – F. Seale
Built circa 1905

The building is in the Arts and Crafts style. The ground floor is red brick and the upper floor rendered. The plain clay tile roof has sprocket eaves with plain close verge gables and wrought iron gutter brackets. The five light dormer window is echoed on the floor below and the again on the ground floor in the arrangement of the front door, this having four stained glass lights under a canopy suspended from wrought iron brackets. To the left of the front door is a two storey gabled bay with projecting canted bay window on the ground floor with a four light leaded window above. A coach house/garage is attached to the north side. There is a two storey canted bay on the southern side. The guttering features a cast metal cistern.

Age	Yes the property is believed to have been built circa 1905.
Architectural	Yes. The house was built by architect F. Seale of Leicester in the Arts and Crafts style and has some interesting architectural details including sprocketed eaves, a porch canopy suspended on wrought iron brackets and stained glass.
Group Value	No.
Historic	Unknown.
Rarity	Yes. Like most properties around this area this property is of detailed and individual design.
Social/Communal	No.

THE OADBY OWL, PUBLIC HOUSE, 7 GLEN ROAD

Buildings current use – public house
Architects – Unknown
Built circa 1938/39

A public house has been situated on this site for over 100 years, albeit in different forms. The previous public house, The Travellers Rest was demolished to make way for the main A6. During the late 1930's the building in its current form was constructed (The Oadby Owl). The building in its current form it set further back from the road than the previous building and displays good 1930's design with its projecting hipped central gable and semi-circular projecting ground floor bays. The property is painted brickwork under a hipped tile roof with red brick chimney stacks.

Age	Yes. The property was built in 1938/39.
Architectural	Yes. The property displays good 1930's design with projecting curved bays; housing rarely seen curved glazed panels.
Group Value	No.
Historic	Unknown.
Rarity	Yes. There are few public houses of this age still existing within Oadby.
Social/Communal	Yes. The site has historically housed a public house of some form.

LAUNDE HOUSE, HARBOROUGH ROAD

Buildings current use – Children’s Nursery.
Architects – Unknown
Built – Unknown

The property is substantial in size on a red painted plinth with white render and a flat roof. To the front facia on the first floor is a protruding bay which is jettied to provide an entrance portico to the ground floor. Original windows with horizontal bars have been replaced, but evidence of them can still be seen on the ground floor window adjoining the entrance.

Age	Unknown.
Architectural	The property is of rare individual Art Deco style.
Group Value	No.
Historic	Unknown.
Rarity	Yes. There are few examples of Art Deco properties within the Borough.
Social/Communal	Yes. This is a children’s nursery.

NO 18-26, HARBOROUGH ROAD

Buildings current use – Residential
Architects – Unknown
Built – Unknown

No.s 18 to 26 Harborough Road are a collection of 4 semi detached dwellings and one detached, all Art Deco in style with flat roofs and white or cream rendered walls with parapets and white rendered chimney stacks with tall chimney pots. The outer corners of the buildings are curved. When built the properties were identical in plan, however over the years have seen extensions to the rears. The original steel windows have been replaced in all but two of the properties, the original featuring horizontal bars.

Age	Unknown.
Architectural	The properties are Art Deco in style and although some have been extended, they have kept this design style.
Group Value	Yes. The properties are a collection of self contained unique buildings.
Historic	Unknown.
Rarity	Yes. This collection of residential properties is unique within the Borough of Oadby and Wigston. There are very few, if any other examples within the Borough of similar properties.
Social/Communal	No.